A screenshot of a Viber chat interface. At the top, there's a status bar showing signal strength, speed (0,10KB/s), time (13:02), and battery (77%). Below that, the chat header shows a back arrow, the name 'Iko', and the status 'Dernièrement en ligne le 24 août...'. To the right of the header are icons for voice call, video call, and a menu. The main area of the chat is a large text input field with horizontal dotted lines for typing. To the right of the input field is a vertical list of four circular profile pictures, each showing a different landscape. At the bottom of the screen, there's a text prompt 'Saisir un message...' and a row of icons: a cat face, a person icon, a camera, a video icon, three dots, and a microphone icon.
